HATCHET

MARION COLLEGE

Marion Virginia

Foreword

“Moods” has been chosen the theme of the 1959 HATCHET because in the everyday life of the Marion College Family, much depends on how each member of this family enters into the “Spirit” or mood of the moment.

Faculty-student relationships are firmly based on foundations of mutual respect, friendliness, two-fold learning. Invaluable experience, insight to many besetting problems and inspiration are the faculty’s gifts to the student body in exchange for the dedication, application, and cooperation of the family’s younger members.

Student-student relationships are warm, intimate, satisfying. Each, in giving of herself to the utmost, soon discovers she is maturing emotionally. And what memorable times she has in doing this—times sweetened by joyous shouts of laughter and flavored by the salt of tears—but memorable never-the-less.

On the following pages we have tried to capture some of the spirit and feelings that are a part of each day, each deed, word, and thought.

Dedication

YOUR warm brown eyes and sincere, sunny smile invite our confidence and friendship. Your keen, vital mind inspires us to aspire to its height and its width. Your vivacious, delightful personality makes you young at heart.

Your intense interest in people and in the world about you salt and peppers your outlook on life, giving it just the right amount of spice and flavor.

In the classroom, you encourage and stimulate what is the best in each of us. You do not give lip service to your ideals, you are their living proof. You are a student as well as a teacher; a student of life doing graduate work.

With a profound respect and a deep admiration, we dedicate the HATCHET of 1959 to you, Miss Mary Preston Sheffield.

THE HATCHET STAFF

CAROL RODEFFER.....Editor

By the look on the faces of each of these members of the HATCHET Staff, the business of creating a yearbook is both exciting and rewarding.

Excitement and anticipation of creation tingled in the air at the first meeting in the fall. Eight months of preparation have not dulled the first excitement or anticipation. These eight months of preparation have channeled our exuberant energy into the striving and the final attainment of our goal - to present to its faculty and students the moods of Marion College.

STUDENT COUNCIL

"We wish to promote a better understanding of each of us for our fellow students and we endeavor to unite the student body," says Harriet Goode, capable and hard-working president of the Student Council, speaking for the members of her organization.

The Student Council plays a leading role on the Marion College stage, preserving student honor, maintaining the high standards of the college, and encouraging responsible and loyal contributions to the student body.

HONOR COURT

"Honor in its truest sense, and as it relates to life at Marion College, involves all that Christ taught concerning duty to self and to one another in thought, word, and act."

One of the most time-honored and cherished traditions of Marion College is the honor system and the embodiment of its authority in the Honor Court, a body of three members representing the senior, junior, and high school classes.

However, honor is not antiquated and moss-covered; it is a vibrating challenge to aspire to the highest ideals of Christianity in everyday living.

Y. W. C. A.

The faces which form the triangle, the official symbol of the Young Women's Christian Association, are a vivacious, creative group known as the "Y" cabinet.

The three sides of the triangle emphasize the three-fold spiritual program of the "Y", candle-light meditations, recognition and installation services, and grace at meals.

Give this group a rectangle to work with and the result will be a blue and silver wintry paradise, the "Town and Country" setting for a Kid Party, or the flowers of spring at a candle-lit Birthday Banquet, whichever the occasion demands. A capsule is even within the scope of these talented amateur geometrists!

The Squib, neither a newspaper (we have no scoops) nor a literary product (we try!) records happy events of the school year from early fall orientation with its picnics, parties, receptions, teas—and work—to the happy ending in spring with more parties, pageants, dances, honors—and sad partings.

The Squib staff sponsors several projects: the election of Miss Marion, our college ideal; the Pitchfork Sale; and staff parties, to plan the papers, discuss ideas and enjoy good fellowship.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Our Missionary Society is vitally interested in promoting Christian College life. At informal monthly meetings and special chapel services, the members become intimately acquainted with the hopes, the joys, and the problems of Africans, Europeans, Asians, and Americans who are northern and southern neighbors.

The Missionary Society extends its generous helping hand to those in need in the far-flung corners of the earth through the student body's Thank Offering and the observance of World Week of Prayer.

Our photographer interrupted this L. S. A. meeting just long enough to snap this picture. This small but active bunch of busy little bees has worked hard to serve Lutherans and the students of all denominations in some of their spiritual needs. The beautiful, meaningful Christmas candlelight service and the spiritually refreshing Palm Sunday sunrise service hold sacred places in our memories, as do the chapel services on slides of famous religious paintings, which the L. S. A. helped to sponsor.

Mr. Peterson's proteges made their debut of 1958-59 at the Community Christmas Concert. Most recently they have donned their robes to participate in the Wednesday evening Lenten services at Ebenezer Lutheran Church.

The formal initiation ceremony has just been completed and those young ladies seated on the couch are now members in good standing of the Delta Beta Chapter of the Phi Theta Kappa. They have a right to smile for they have captured the top academic prize at Marion.

To be eligible for membership, a student must carry a minimum of fifteen hours with twelve of these in the arts and sciences, and must rank scholastically in the upper ten per cent of the student body. She is, by nature, of good moral character and a good citizen.

A vital and keen interest in the world of today and what's making it "tick" is the only requirement for membership in the International Relations Club. In trying to promote a better understanding of our neighbors around the world, an annual party is given in which the honors are equally showed by the eighty-odd countries of the United Nations.

In the pictures above and below, the members are in the midst of a give-and-take of ideas on the I. R. C. party, its exhibits, games, refreshments, entertainment, and films.

The addition of this organization to Marion College social life is a response to the urgent appeal for new and better trained teachers. S. P. T. has taken the highly responsible task of interesting and informing our students about the teaching profession on its young shoulders.

Mr. J. Leonard Manek, superintendent of Smyth County schools, addressed the group's first meeting; panel discussions, special topics and filmstrips have follow-ups to promote interest in the art of teaching.

HIGH SCHOOL SONG

When a high school girl goes walkin'
 with her one and only man,
 Rest assured she'll do
 the most official thing she can.
 She won't let him hold her hand
 'cause he might not understand,
 That a high school girl's an angel in disguise. Ah, Ha!

REFRAIN:

Oh, the high school girls are the truest and the best,
 and they keep things goin' and they never take a rest.
 They have one yell and they yell it all together,
 and it goes like this, Marion High forever.

When 9:30 rolls around all the teachers wear a frown,
 'cause they know the high school's up and runnin' round.
 We'll remember all the fun that was had by everyone,
 'Cause a high school girl's an angel in disguise. Ah, Ha!

Under the able direction of Miss Leah Bonham, hockey ranked as a major sport of the year. Neither rain nor sleet stopped the team from practicing each afternoon, learning new skills and improving old ones.

As hockey season drew to a close we had embedded in our minds two important lessons, NEVER "piddle in the striking circle" and it isn't the score that counts but the way you play the game.

The inspiration of our coach as well as the sportsmanship and ambition of the team accounted for a successful season.

A circle is a continuous line, take away one part and it is crippled, yet that one part is no more important than any of the other parts. The circle is only meaningful if all the parts are connected and in their proper perspective.

Basketball is an exciting game of skilled coordination, both of the muscles and the team members. Each of the girls in this circle has some definite skills and a definite personality. But we have learned to merge these skills and these personalities into a well-co-ordinated, well-functioning unit, the team. This was not accomplished in a few hours or practice periods, but after weeks and months of serious concentration and effort. To merge fourteen individuals into a well-organized team is, without a doubt, the most difficult task of the coach, the manager, the captains, and the team itself.

THE MARION IDEAL

... is to care for what is rather than for what seems; to be loyal to what is best in the tradition of the past and yet open to the discoveries of the present and the hopes of the future; to find freedom in the knowledge of the truth, beauty in the common sphere of daily living; joy in love and friendship, and strength in constructive service; to play happily and work honestly; to believe in God and God's children, and to serve where service is most needed.

School Editors Demand Confidence

Editors of high school and college yearbooks insist upon doing business with a printer in whose integrity they can have confidence.

From the very beginning, in 1883, Stone Printing has been a quality leader in the specialized field of yearbook production. We are proud of the confidence demonstrated by the acceptance which "Yearbooks by Stone" have received among our many customers over a span of more than three-quarters of a century.

There are countless reasons why so many schools have complete confidence in Stone. You, too, can take advantage of our complete service to high school and college staffs. From the first layout to the completed job, printed by either offset or letterpress, your book will be produced to meet your most exacting requirements and your budget.

One of our representatives will be happy to meet with your staff and discuss your next yearbook. Please call on us.
